

CATHERINE THOMASSON

Dr. Catherine Thomasson is pleased to be the legislative lobby coordinator for MCAT. She helps coach newcomers on lobbying and developing a strong team. She is an environmental consultant and advocate for healthy climate policy, who has been working in this arena for several decades. Catherine has been chair, and is currently vice chair, of the Oregon Democratic Party Environmental Caucus since 2019. She is the former executive director of Physicians for Social Responsibility in Washington, D.C. An internal medicine physician by training, she has contributed to city, county and state advisory boards and provided direct advocacy on issues of climate change, water treatment management and toxins. She finds inspiration in hiking our mountains and forests.
